Today, The Gazette endorsed my bid for election to the Maryland State Senate, highlighting my work in the legislature to promote the biotechnology sector. "He has been a champion for Montgomery County biotech." The article concludes with, "For Feldman's work for Montgomery County, he has won The Gazette's endorsement." The Gazette's endorsement is the latest addition to the diverse list of organizations in the County and across the State that support my bid for election to the Senate. This list spans a broad political spectrum and includes organizations representing our teachers, fire fighters, police, the environmental and business communities and numerous other groups.
